26th ANNUAL FRENCH FILM FESTIVAL • MARCH 22 - 25, 2018

Immersion Weekend for Teachers of French

Through the Annual French Film Festival in Richmond, Virginia, Virginia Commonwealth University, University of Richmond, the Cultural Services of the French Embassy, and the American Association of Teachers of French of Virginia are again in collaboration providing middle and secondary-school teachers of French across the state, with the opportunity to use French and to increase their understanding of French culture through an immersion weekend associated with the activities of the 2018 French Film Festival to be held on March 22 - 25, 2018.

The French Film Festival in Richmond is a unique French cultural event founded and directed by Drs. Peter and Françoise Kirkpatrick. The Festival showcases newly released films from France. All screenings are at the historic Byrd Theatre in Richmond and have English subtitles. The French actors and directors come to town to present their new films to the American public in the Byrd Theater with question/answer sessions after each screening. On Saturday evening, the French delegation of stars interacts further with viewers during the Official Reception which will be held at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts at 7:30pm. In addition to the regular activities and events of the festival, the immersion weekend is a wonderful experience for middle and high school teachers of French. Teachers will be able to earn up to 2 or 3 graduate credits.

Price information: Your cost for the total class including the Faculty VIP Pass, graduate registration fee, and two graduate credits is $400, or with one additional graduate credit is $475. Contact the Festival office for more information and be sure to register before March 10, 2018.
